CASE PROFILE

This Florida hotspot includes many tourist attractions and of course, competition. The goal was to provide extra visibility across the web for fishing tourists who might be seeking accommodations for a full-service resort. We started by implementing vital SEO components across the board, from 301 redirects to on-page execution to enhance their search listings and improve their keyword positions. We then created a content strategy and worked with other website owners for posting and increasing domain authority. Keeping the website up to date was important, along with adjusting mobile-friendliness for the user experience.
