ANALYTICS

CASE PROFILE

Starting out, this tow company, looking for SEO, was just a young start-up. The website was in poor shape and needed a top to bottom optimization for proper SEO and ultimately rankings that produce phone calls and leads. We began by implementing a stronger keyword presence, reduced some obvious over-optimization, and then proceeded to optimize for search on the local level. This involved everything from site speed improvements, blog writing, and optimization, along with off-page signals to help grow visabilty.
